6. Once you have registered it will send you to an information page to print for future reference.

The screenshot shows a registration confirmation page from Knowledge@Work. At the top, the Knowledge@Work logo is displayed. Below the logo, the text reads "Thank You For Your Registration" and "PLEASE SAVE OR PRINT THIS INFORMATION FOR FUTURE REFERENCE." The page is addressed to "Dear TEST TEST:" and provides the user's details: "Your user name is: testing123" and "Your password is: testing". A "Print Screen" button is located to the right of the user information. Below this, instructions for starting training are provided in a numbered list: 1) Record user name and password; 2) Log in now or return to the login page; 3) Check scores via the Student Center; 4) Print certificates via the Student Center. Contact information for customer support is also provided, including a phone number and an email address. A "Login" button is centered at the bottom of the page.

7. Click on Login.

8. The next screen has 6 different boxes with purple highlighted titles. Click the first one that says FBR Required Courses.

employee, as a volunteer, or as an agency member. Simply click on the category, choose your course, and start training and gaining Knowledge@Work®

The screenshot displays a grid of six course categories, each with a purple header and a "Learn More" link. The categories are: 1) FBR REQUIRED COURSES (with an image of a person in a blue uniform), 2) WAREHOUSE SAFETY (with an image of a person in a warehouse), 3) HEALTH & SAFETY (with an image of a person holding their head), 4) DRIVING SAFETY (with an image of a person in a car), 5) HUMAN RESOURCES (with an image of a woman), and 6) CUSTOMER SERVICE (with an image of two hands shaking). Below the grid are five navigation buttons: "Visitor Center" (with links to FAQs and Contact Us), "Student Center" (with links to Certificates and Transcript), "Library" (with a link to Resources), "My Courses" (with a link to My Online Courses), and "Suggestions" (with a link to Submit them here).

9. Click on the desired course that you would like to take:

- Food Safety Training should be the 2nd selection: Food Safety Training
- For Civil Rights should be the 3rd selection: Great Divide: Civil Rights Training for the State of Colorado

The screenshot shows a website interface for the College of Food Safety. On the left, under "Recommended Courses", there is a list of courses under the "Food Safety" heading: "Food Safety for Warehouse and Distribution", "Food Safety Training", "Great Divide: Civil Rights Training for the State of Colorado", and "Restaurant Safety / New Employee Orientation". The central part of the page features the "COLLEGE OF FOOD SAFETY" logo, a search bar with the text "Search Course Catalog", and a large image of a young girl in a blue chef's hat and apron, holding a red bowl and a spoon. On the right, under "Electives", there is a "My Cart" icon and a list of elective categories: "Business Skills", "Driver Safety", "Employment Liability", "Human Capital Mgmt.", "Health and Safety", "PC Desktop Skills", and "Quality Management".

10. Click on "Enroll" in the message in the center.

The screenshot shows the "Food Safety Training" course page. At the top, there is a navigation bar with "Colorado" on the left and a vertical list of categories (B, D, E, H, P, Q) on the right. The main heading is "Food Safety Training". Below the heading is a blue "ENROLL" button. The course details are listed: "Course Code: FB01", "Catalog: Health & Safety", "Category: Food Safety", "SubCategory: General", "Length: 30 Minutes [0.50 Hours]", and "Language: English". To the right of the text is a small image of a chef in a white uniform. Below the details is a paragraph of text: "Over 76 million people in the United States get food-borne illnesses each year. Food-borne illness can result in missed work, medical costs and even death, so it is incredibly important that the food your program gives to people is safe. This course will teach you tools you can use at your program to make food safer for your clients and guests." At the bottom of the page is another blue "ENROLL" button.

11. A message in the center will then appear stating the following:

You are already enrolled in this course - you may return to the course list and continue enrolling in other courses, or to launch this course

12. The next page will show Your Authorized Online Courses. Click on the course that you will be taking (Food Safety Training or Civil Rights Training)

Course Name	Course ID	Status	Status Date	Enrolled Through:
Food Safety Training	FB01			01/03/2016
Great Divide: Civil Rights Training for the State of Colorado	FB04			01/03/2016

13. The training video should automatically load. If the page reappears with a button saying "refresh status," click on the food safety training phrase again. Please note the course requires Java software be installed on your computer. If you are prompted to download the latest version of Java, please do so or you will not be able to take the course on your computer.

14. Your course is loading and then a small TV screen will appear beginning your course. Make sure the volume is turned up on your computer - the course contains verbal training.

The course will take between 30-45 minutes. Please complete all the sections, including the Post-Test. FBR will automatically be alerted that you have completed the course.

15. After finishing the course and taking the Post-test, click exit on the top right corner.

16. It is not necessary for you to print a course certificate, but it is available if you would like. Click the Student Center Tab, then click "Print Course Certificates" and follow the prompts.
